Nineteen year-old Ayita High-Eagle is devastated from a lifetime of abuse at the hands of her alcoholic and promiscuous Mom. Life on the Cherokee Indian Reservation in Washington has become unbearable. Ayita's carefully staged suicide attempt is thwarted and the supernatural appearance of an angel becomes the harbinger for a new and glorious life, beginning with moving onto the Circle K Ranch with best friend, Marjoi Peterson and her family. A moment of destiny causes the irresistibly debonair but cynical Valdez Lopez to become stranded at the ranch during a crippling blizzard. Sparks fly between them, but will her burning desire to become a Nashville recording artist thwart their blossoming romance? Can Ayita become the catalyst pointing the way to a spiritual awakening for him-despite his objections? Read this poignant story of love, forgiveness and challenging issues that must be resolved before Ayita can commit to "Love, Honor and Obey..." "Ms. Worrall creates a solidly-crafted real-life romantic adventure based on biblical principles. The characters are artfully woven and the story line draws you in. Marlene brings in a great deal of life adventure while illustrating how one can live a righteous life in whatever setting one finds oneself. I did not want to put the book down! Excellent read."
